INSURANCE men themselves are not awake to the immense returns being made to policyholders by the life insurance companies in the United States and Canada. The Insurance Press-NATIONAL UNDERWRITER compilations given in this special edition show that the returns to policyholders in the United States and Canada were $1,585,000,000 in 1926. The immense accumulations of the companies are familiar to all, but it is not realized how nearly the cash returns each year approach the premiums paid. These returns, of course, are in addition to those increases in reserves each year which make the total accumulations so impressive.

How Money Goes Back to People

This special edition of "Life Payments Localized" shows town by town how the money of life insurance goes back to the people who pay the premiums. It shows the beneficence of life insurance spreading over the country, taking care of dependents or perhaps providing for the policyholder an old age income. Naturally, the biggest totals are in the larger cities. That cannot be avoided, but the beauty of a compilation like this is the evidence that the stream actually does reach the remote places and thousands of modest homes where the money is a godsend.

Shows Value of Smaller Cases

Life insurance is not more beneficent than the daily supply of food and shelter, but it comes at a time when hearts are open and the need is great. No life insurance man can look over this special edition without taking pride in his work and comfort to his heart. He will not dwell on the million dollar cases. Such cases are evidence of the value put on life insurance by shrewd men able to make large fortunes, but the real business of life insurance is with the smaller policies. The smaller cases are not only the ones that do the most good, but the ones out of which the agent makes his living. Therefore, when he looks over this edition he can say, "This is my work."

Million Dollar Cases Minor Item

Taking out the million dollar cases, the grand total is not much affected. Take out the halves and still the change is imperceptible. For visible effects, one must go down to fairly modest sums—and how quickly one gets down to them. The cases above $100,000 barely fill a column and a half in the list, yet what columns and columns and pages and pages are needed for the complete "Localized" list.

Even then, the smaller cases cannot be listed, but are lumped as in Indianapolis, for instance: "58 $2,000 claims, $116,000; 112 $1,000 claims, $112,000."

Modest Amounts Make Big Total

It is only when one realizes that the million dollar claims do not go far that the large city totals become impressive. One thinks: "Of course, New York would have $50,000,000 in death claims." But none of the million dollar cases last year was in New York. The great total of $50,108,000 for that city is made up just like the total for the country—out of the countless cases of modest amounts.

New York might perhaps show larger if it were not that many New Yorkers are listed for other towns. For instance, Brooklyn stands near the top and many of the suburbs draw from New York. Perhaps that explains why Chicago is so close on the heels of the metropolis, with $37,600,000.

How Cities Line Up

Philadelphia comes next with $20,500,000, then Brooklyn with $16,800,000 and Pittsburgh with $13,725,000. The next city drops below $10,000,000, Detroit showing $9,408,400. Cleveland is close up with $8,950,000, Los Angeles with $8,800,000 and St. Louis with $8,420,000. Buffalo comes just under the $8,000,000 mark with $7,913,000. Boston has $7,408,300 and Baltimore $6,830,000. Three cities are in the $6,000,000 class—Minneapolis with $6,656,200, Cincinnati with $6,535,000 and Washington with $6,000,000. Milwaukee shows $5,816,000 and Kansas City $5,308,000.

Those Below $5,000,000 Rank

Below the $5,000,000 rank San Francisco leads with $4,848,000, followed by Newark with $4,676,000, Syracuse with $4,550,000, Indianapolis with $4,125,000 and Columbus with $4,046,000.

In the next rank come Providence, $3,850,000; Louisville, $3,700,000; Rochester, $3,580,000; Atlanta, $3,577,000; Portland, Ore., $3,400,000; Denver, $3,384,000; Memphis, $3,339,200; Toledo, $3,180,000, and New Orleans, $3,040,000.

Canada Enters Leaders' Ranks

Canada then enters the leaders' ranks, Toronto showing $2,878,000. Albany comes next with $2,800,000 and Hartford, the home of insurance, with $2,786,000. Evanston, Ill., which is a suburb of Chicago, is listed at $2,750,000. Dayton comes next with $2,650,000. In the next case, Sheboygan, the effect of a single case is seen and the city ranks out of its normal class with $2,570,600. Seattle shows $2,500,000; Omaha, $2,460,000; Duluth, $2,433,000; Akron, $2,416,000; Bridgeport, $2,368,000, and Nashville, $2,058,000.

Canada then comes in again, Montreal showing $1,998,800, just ahead of Dallas with $1,945,000. The cities that show between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 of life payments number 46. They are all listed elsewhere, together with many others.

Four Claims Over $1,000,000

Single claims in excess of $1,000,000 numbered four in 1926, the largest being $2,042,000. The assured was Roland Beecher Ballard of Minneapolis, an investment broker, who was found dead in his garage on March 23, 1926. The next largest reported was on Jules Ephraim Mastbaum of Philadelphia, president of the Stanley Company of America, one of the great moving picture syndicates. Mr. Mastbaum was insured for $1,989,000, and an accumulation of $18,000 in dividends brings the total amount payable to $2,007,000. The next largest amount was $1,622,066 on Owen L. Williams of Portsmouth, Va.

One Big Claim in Wisconsin

The fourth of the big claims was on Peter Reiss of Sheboygan, Wis., insured for $1,000,000. Mr. Reiss was a trustee of the Northwestern Mutual Life besides being the head of many Sheboygan enterprises.

Other big payments were on the life of Randal Morgan, general counsel of the United Gas Improvement Company, director in several important corporations and chairman of the board of trustees of the University of Pennsylvania. He carried $829,860. George S. Elder, listed at St. Elmo, Tenn., was a business man of Chattanooga, of which St. Elmo is a suburb. His insurance was $530,000. Another Tennessee claim was on George A. Washington of Cedar Hill, who left $432,959. Mr. Washington was a farmer and lived on a baronial estate which has been in the family many generations.

Is Approved by Wealthy Men

The high esteem in which life insurance is held by wealthy people is being demonstrated more emphatically every year. The number of those insured for $1,000,000 or more is increasing steadily, and the placing of a $1,000,000 policy is no longer an uncommon occurrence. These large policies are used for various purchases, for the endowment of charitable institutions, for the payment of estate taxes and other expenses incident to the death of the policyholder, for reimbursing a business concern in a measure for the loss of an important official, and for various other purposes.

One of the large recent policies was for a total of $3,000,000, taken out by the Charles Stewart Mott foundation of Flint, Mich., on the life of Mr. Mott, vice-president of the General Motors Corporation. The Mott foundation, which was organized for charitable and educational purposes, will pay the premium from the income of securities which Mr. Mott has given it.

Safeguarded Vast Business Transaction

A line of $2,400,000 was written on the life of Charles F. Noyes, a prominent real estate broker of New York City. This was part of a transaction involving about $300,000,000. The deal involved the rental and agency management by Mr. Noyes of the stores and property of the United Cigar Stores throughout the United States, as well as in foreign countries. As the management was to be largely in the hands of Mr. Noyes, the interests involved in the transaction demanded some security in case of his death.

John A. Carroll, president of the Hyde Park State Bank of Chicago, took two $1,000,000 policies within a year, making his total insurance $2,150,000. The insurance is carried partly for the benefit of his family and partly for his business.

O. Y. Schnering, president of the Curtiss Candy Company of Chicago, now carries $2,500,000 of insurance written for the benefit of the company.

Aviation Enthusiast Takes Large Line

Anthony H. G. Fokker, noted airplane designer and manufacturer, secured ordinary life policies totaling approximately $2,000,000, which was written at a rate somewhat above standard because of his aviation activities.

Joseph P. Day of New York, a director of the Metropolitan Life and prominent real estate operator, has taken out additional life insurance totaling more than $1,400,000, bringing his total insurance in force to $3,050,000. The beneficiary of the additional insurance taken out is the Joseph P. Day company, and the premiums are paid by the corporation, but it has been arranged that his heirs may, if they wish, buy out the corporation's rights in the policy.

Dr. Nicholas C. Partos of New York, president of the Partos Realty Corporation and its 25 subsidiaries, took out a business insurance policy of $1,250,000 for the benefit of his company. He now has more than $3,000,000 of insurance.

Policies totaling more than $1,150,000 were placed on the life of Harry Busick, president of the hotel company which financed the new $6,200,000 Lord Baltimore hotel in Baltimore. The insurance is for the benefit of the holders of $1,150,000 of first preferred 7 percent cumulative stock.

Life Insurance Payments in 1926

Clarence Y. Palitz, president of the Credit Alliance Corporation of New York, secured $1,000,000 of insurance for the benefit of the corporation, the premiums being paid by the company.

One of the largest business insurance transactions was that whereby five executives of Caldwell & Co., investment bankers of Nashville, Tenn., which have acquired control of several insurance companies in recent years, were covered by policies of $1,000,000 in the companies controlled by the firm. The policies cover the lives of Rogers Caldwell, president of the firm, and four vice-presidents, Edward J. Heitzberk, DeWitt Carter, Frank B. Marr and Harvey C. Alexander.

Another $1,000,000 business insurance policy was written on the life of Benjamin Titman of New York, president of the B. Titman Company, engaged in the canned egg industry, with canneries in important cities throughout the country.

Another $1,000,000 policy was placed on the life of Chester L. Jones. Mr. Jones is the head of a company which operates a chain of department stores covering several states, with headquarters in Kansas City.

Gets $1,000,000 Despite Advancing Age

Harry S. Black, chairman of the board of the United States Realty & Improvement Co., was insured for $1,000,000, payable to the company. An interesting feature was that Mr. Black was 63 years old when the policy was taken out, but easily met all requirements.

Still another $1,000,000 business insurance policy was that written on the life of William J. Cox, president of the Encyclopedia Britannica Company. The company pays the premiums and is beneficiary.

A $1,000,000 business policy was written upon the lives of two Detroit men, Norbert A. Hoffman and J. Arthur Hoffman of the Caspar-Hoffman Company, real estate operators.

Hugo F. Arnold, president of Arnold Bros. of Chicago, now carries $1,000,000 of life insurance, a large part of which is for the benefit of his various business enterprises.

W. Meyer Davis, organizer of approximately 100 orchestras and owner of a number of large restaurants and amusement enterprises in various cities, became a $1,000,000 policyholder for the benefit of his family and also to protect his business creditors.

Famous Singer Safeguards Earnings

John McCormack, famous tenor, took out an additional $200,000 ten year endowment policy, completing his line for $1,000,000, the entire amount being on the endowment plan.

Martin L. Davey of Kent, O., congressman and head of the nationally-known firm of tree surgeons, took out additional insurance, bringing his line to $1,050,000.

There are many other million dollar lines of longer standing. A recent publication gave a list of nearly 200 men carrying over $1,000,000 of life insurance. While necessarily the information about a man's life insurance is confidential, pretty good estimates can be made, and it is significant that the publication of this list of 200 million dollar policyholders, with the amounts supposed to be carried, brought out only a few corrections.

Rodman Wanamaker Still Leader

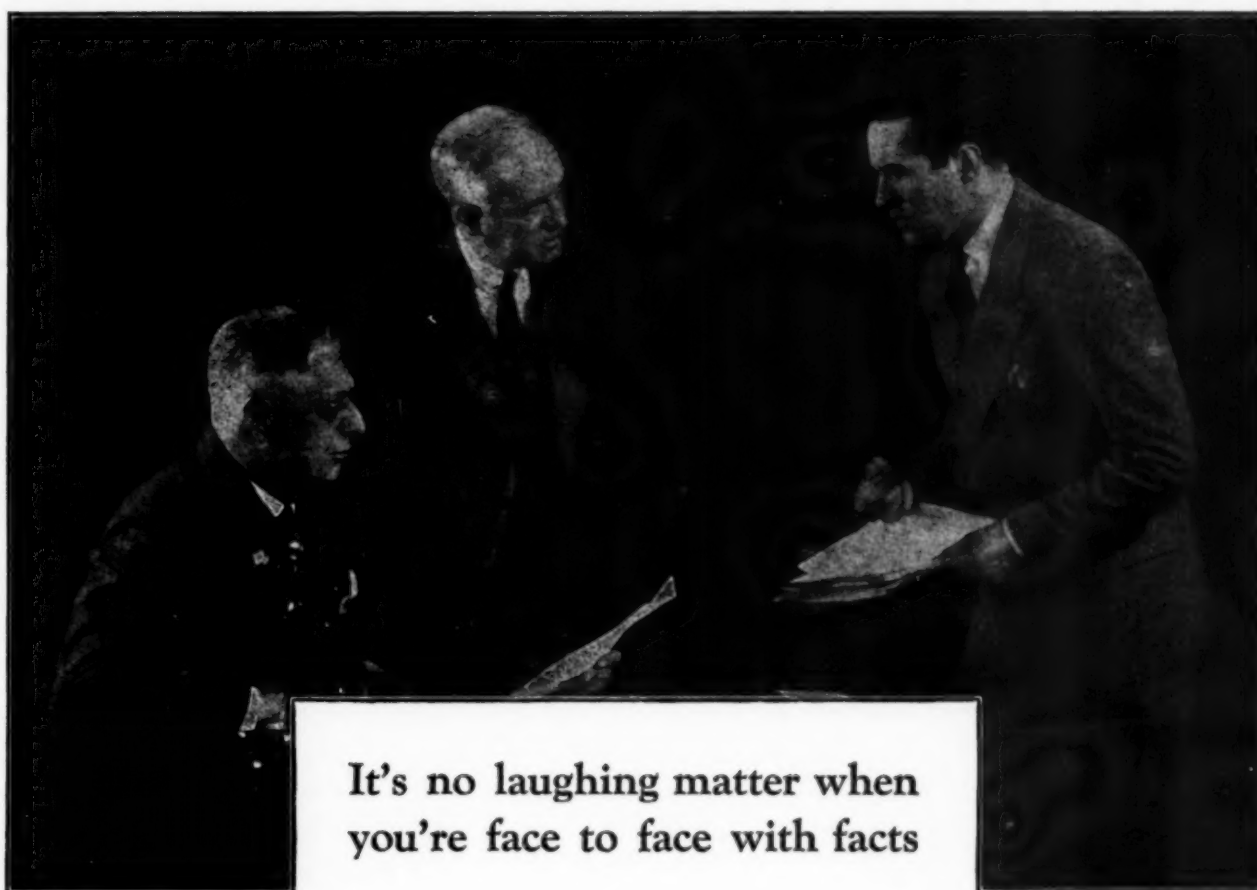

Rodman Wanamaker has long been the most heavily insured man in the United States, and apparently he has increased his insurance from year to year so as to maintain that position by a considerable margin, notwithstanding the large number of other successful business men who turn to life insurance and purchase huge amounts. Mr. Wanamaker is listed for $7,500,000. There are seven men listed for $5,000,000 each, including the three movie magnates, Jesse Lasky, William Fox and Adolph Zukor; the three Book brothers at Detroit, successful real estate men, Frank P., Herbert D. and J. Burgess Book; and James H. Rand, Jr., of Buffalo, head of the great Rand organization that handles office appliances and equipment. William Zieger of New York carries $4,500,000, and Joseph M. Schenk, husband of Norma Talmadge and president of the United Artists Corporation and an officer of First National Pictures, carries $4,250,000.

Among the corrections in the lists as published is a reduction of Charlie Chaplin's insurance from $1,000,000 to $200,000, while two men are reduced from $5,000,000 to "less than $1,000,000." These men are S. S. Kresge, the chain store man, and Dr. F. G. Banting, Toronto, discoverer of insulin.

Many in Million Class

Among the other prominent men who are listed for $1,000,000 or more are James M. Hoyt, New York Banker, $3,175,000; Percy Rockefeller, New York, $3,000,000; C. F. Kettering, the famous inventor and head of the great Delco works, $2,027,000; F. B. Patterson of Dayton, the cash register chief, $2,000,000; Clarence H. Mackay, Postal telegraph and cable man, $2,000,000; Julius Rosenwald of Sears, Roebuck & Co., $2,000,000; Louis F. Swift, Swift & Co., Chicago, $1,800,000; James C. Colgate, New York, $1,500,000; William Wrigley, Jr., $2,500,000; H. H. Rogers, New York, $1,500,000; Sir Mortimer Davis, Montreal, $1,500,000; J. W. Bettendorf of the great Bettendorf wheel company of Davenport, $1,500,000; William Candler, Coca Cola magnate, Atlanta, $1,325,000; Frank Vanderlip, New York, $1,130,000; Walter Schroeder, the hotel man of Milwaukee.

It's no laughing matter when you're face to face with facts

"AND you don't want it . . . can't use it . . . don't need it" . . . faltered the agent.

"You're right and wrong, Brown," answered the partners. "We need it—want it, but your policy simply doesn't go far enough. Did it ever occur to you that either Mr. Smith or I might be kept away from business by accident or sickness? . . . that this loss of time at a critical moment might be disastrous—might cost the firm a great deal of money? Isn't our time of any value?"

"Yes . . . certainly" . . . the agent stammered. "But if it's accident and health insurance you want, I can easily get it for you through one of the casualty companies."

"That won't do, Brown. Just today we received the recommendations of a representative of the Reliance Life. On the accident and health features of their Perfect Protection Policy, we can save from 25% to 40% over anything you might have to offer.

"What we primarily want is adequate coverage and also—we're interested in buying it right. Sorry Brown. Very sorry."

The discriminating buyer is essentially a "head buyer" and many a sale is lost today because the underwriter cannot offer a service predicated on modern standards of protection.

Perfect Protection is just what its name implies. It affords every essential element of personal coverage inherent in life, accident, and health insurance. In this policy, on the accident and health feature alone, substantial saving is possible to the buyer because the policy, issued in combination, eliminates duplicate collection costs and other administrative expenses incident to the issue of life, accident and health insurance under separate policy forms.

The discriminating buyer, who, through education and experience, knows the difference, will not tolerate obsolete or inadequate insurance protection. Likewise, he has small patience for the salesman unequipped to render the service capable of fulfilling his requirements and preferences.

"Sell Perfect Protection and you'll sell more life insurance"

"Selling Perfect Protection" is the name of a little booklet giving other reasons for Perfect Protection popularity.

over $1,000,000; Elmer Maytag, the washing machine manufacturer, Newton, Ia., $1,000,000; George W. Vanderbilt, New York, $1,000,000; A. S. Firestone of Akron, O., Fred Geier and Alfred Krippendorf and Charles F. Williams of Cincinnati, $1,000,000 each.

Well Known Men on List

Bernard M. Baruch, well known during the Wilson administration, is another man who has shown his faith in life insurance by carrying $1,000,000. Others notable in business with the same amount are Jules S. Bache, New York banker; H. P. Hollins, another New York banker; Samuel Insull, head of the great public utilities associated with his name; A. J. Drexel and A. J. Drexel-Biddle of Philadelphia, representatives of inherited wealth; Irene DuPont and Lamont DuPont of Wilmington, Del., members of the great powder family, $1,000,000 each; T. E. Wilson, the Chicago packer, and Clifford Hemphill, the New York banker.

Quite a number of women are in the class of million dollar policyholders. The lead has been taken by Mrs. Henry E. Yeiser.

The names here mentioned are significant chiefly as showing how business men of the soundest judgment look on life insurance. In the list of 200 individuals carrying $1,000,000 or more are many names not well known throughout the country. Those mentioned, however, will all be recognized by nearly every reader.

Five year term insurance totaling $750,000 was written on the life of Paul Ash, jazz orchestra leader of Chicago, the beneficiary being Balaban & Katz, theater operators in that city.

Business insurance totaling $500,000, in addition to personal insurance for $100,000, was written on the life of Seth Marshall, president of the Marshall-Wells Company of Duluth, Minn. Several years ago Mr. Marshall took out $500,000 of insurance, payable to the company.

Walter Hagen, professional golf champion, is now covered by a $500,000 life policy taken out by a Detroit corporation which markets golf equipment bearing his name. It was believed that the firm's business would be seriously damaged in case of Mr. Hagen's death.

Wealthy Woman Insurance Enthusiast

So far as is known, the most heavily insured woman today is Mrs. Louise Fleischmann Yeiser, who applied for more than $3,000,000 at one time. When her father, Julius Fleischmann, head of the nationally known yeast company, dropped dead at the height of his career, the costs of administration of his estate were very heavy, being greatly in excess of his life insurance of over $1,000,000. This convinced Mrs. Yeiser of the value of life insurance for the conservation of large estates, and she applied for all that she could get.

NOVEMBER 15, 1927

when the United States Government redeems the issue

Of the 265 life insurance companies in the United States and Canada the National stands ninth in age; its insurance in force and its annual income have more than doubled since 1918. Its assets have more than doubled since 1910.

Much of this money will be spent to supply immediate and future legitimate needs. Some of it will be well reinvested and the balance will either be lost in poor investments or dissipated in non-essentials.

NOW IS THE TIME FOR LIFE INSURANCE MEN TO RENDER THE NATION A REAL SERVICE IN CONSERVING SOME PART OF THIS FUND THROUGH THE INSURANCE OF ITS PERPETUITY

Write to the Home Office for a copy of the booklet, "Why the National?"

HOW CAN THIS BE MORE SAFELY AND SANELY ACCOMPLISHED THAN THROUGH THE ANNUITY AND LIFE INSURANCE SERVICE OF OUR DAY?

OLD enough to be soundly established, and yet
young enough to afford the valuable advantage of "growing up with the Company." The Franklin offers an opportunity for the field man to expand to the limit of his ability.

The Company has $191,560,326
of insurance in force; a complete line of life policies that stand on an equal footing with the best issued by any company; open territory in nineteen States; and premium rates and commissions whose attractiveness is evidenced by the fact that the Company has trebled in size in the last ten years.

A GROWING INSTITUTION

SINCE 1860, The Guardian Life Insurance Company of America has applied itself to the construction of a fine, lasting Life Insurance Institution.

Built upon a firm, safe foundation, the structure of The Guardian each year assumes greater proportions; a growing monument to those of its builders who have passed on, and a living tribute to those who are carrying on the greater work.

We are grateful to the founders who handed down to us the torch of vision which guided them in their labors. We are proud of the men and women in our ranks who have kept the faith, and through whose efforts The Guardian has achieved such rapid progress in recent years. The Guardian's growth has been their reward, for with this progress has come ever greater opportunity for their own self-development.

In making plans for a wider development of our Field organization, commensurate with our growth, we have several openings for properly qualified fieldmen and organizers. The splendid opportunities now available to participate in the greater progress in store for us are worthy of serious consideration.

- (c) The assurance to the family of some of the comforts which the husband was pleased to give.
- (d) An old age fund for the insured.

SOME OF THE WAYS TO USE THIS ISSUE AS A LIFE INSURANCE SELLING DOCUMENT

This issue of THE NATIONAL UNDERWRITER is very much more than a special number—it is the best kind of a canvassing document. It should be used regularly through the coming months by agents who want something graphic and persuasive to help them close business. These pages are a demonstration of what life insurance does. They show where the life insurance money that is paid out is going and who receives it. There is all the difference in the world between telling what life insurance is going to do and being able to show what it has done.

Most prospects are extremely vague as to what life insurance does and whom it benefits. They are frequently convinced in a general way that it is "a good thing," but they do not know why or how. The average married man has a feeling that he should carry some life insurance and should do something about taking out a policy, but he never does until he is solicited and frequently then will not buy.

The circle of the average man is rather limited. He moves in more or less fixed grooves. The people that he knows and sees regularly are the ones that interest him the most. Their goings and comings, their ups and downs, the little intimate gossip about them is of importance to him. What his own group or circle is doing means much more to him than the activities outside of it. The range of some men's circle of friends and acquaintances is wider than others, but it can be said of nearly every man that his daily habits of life and contacts are more or less circumscribed.

When such a man is made to see what life insurance has done among the people in whom he is most interested, then the life insurance story begins to make some impression. The whole thing is brought home to him. With a copy of "Life Payments Localized" he is made to see how much life insurance his local banker who died last year carried. He had respect for his banker. He relied on his judgment. That the very banker with whom he transacted business and whose advice he took should have carried $186,000 worth of life insurance makes more impression on him than all the stories he could read over a period of five years regarding the large lines of life insurance carried by movie stars, oil magnates and wall street brokers. Everything is comparative, and the average man is greatly impressed by what the men in whom he comes constantly in contact are doing.

This issue actually localizes life insurance payments. It gets them right down to every local community, and takes all the vagueness and generality out of life insurance payments.

Any prospect who is handed a copy of this issue will look it over with more than the ordinary amount of curiosity. He will instinctively turn to his own state and city to see what is shown there. He will be surprised to note the amounts of life insurance carried by some whom he thought could not or did not own that much. He will be impressed, his interest and curiosity will be aroused, and his mind will be more receptive for a life insurance discussion than it was before he read what is to be found in these pages. Anything that makes it easier to sell life insurance, anything that breaks down the natural resistance that is to be found everywhere, is a good thing for life insurance, and that is why this issue of THE NATIONAL UNDERWRITER should be carried by agents and shown to prospects. The use of it makes life insurance selling easier. It impresses the public with the widespread benefits of life insurance. It gives the average man more respect for the institution of life insurance because it makes him see in terms that he can understand what life insurance is doing and how vast its benefits are.

This is not a special number in the ordinary sense. It is instead a compilation of figures and names arranged in such a way as to be of permanent value, or at least of use until next year's issue is published. There is nothing else like it. No other paper even attempts to publish a compilation of this character. This is the only place that this particular kind of information may be found, and for all of these reasons this issue of THE NATIONAL UNDERWRITER should not only be preserved, but it should be used to help sell life insurance. Even those who are skeptical of some of these statements will be surprised if they will be open-minded enough to go out after their next piece of business armed with a copy of this issue and present it to the first prospect they encounter. It is a curiosity arouser, an attention getter, and a novelty. It should, of course, not be used in every sales canvass, but there are frequent occasions during the course of a sales talk where a presentation of this number will help to hasten the close of the sale.

THE BERKSHIRE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Don't Try Building Without the Tools

WITH THESE TOOLS IN YOUR KIT YOU CAN MORE EFFECTIVELY SELL LIFE INSURANCE

1. An up to date CANVASSING PORTFOLIO which tells the story of life insurance in a way that every prospect can understand. It is graphically illustrated with charts and drawings.
2. An illustrated brief—a new innovation.
3. A pre-approach plan that actually CONVERTS "suspects" into prospects.
4. A complete line of policy contracts.
5. Special plans for children of all ages.
6. Lowest rates consistent with sound actuarial practices.
7. A new plan of agency cooperation.
8. Constant development of new sales plans.

In the life insurance business nearly every company is sound, has good life insurance contracts and pays its obligations promptly. But just as a house cannot be built from good material if the proper tools are lacking, so along with these good materials of the life insurance business must go the proper selling tools.

It is in the aids to selling that the Bank Savings Life excels.—For instance the First Tool in the Bank Savings Life agents' selling kit is a canvassing portfolio which pictures the advantages of life insurance.—Men get 78 percent of the impressions through the eye. The Bank Savings Life man takes advantage of this with his canvassing portfolio.

Read over the contents of the Tool Kit.—Then write George L. Grogan, Manager of Agencies, for complete information on why the Bank Savings Life is the Company for men who are looking for a real future.

STOP AND THINK

Why Are Mutual Trust Agents Successful

Here are a few factors that contribute to their prosperity:

Free Direct-Mail Service,
Up-to-date Policy Contracts,
Liberal Dividends,
Liberal Commissions,
Policyholder's Service,
App-a-Week Club with Awards,
Convention Outings,
Appreciation of the Field Man's Problems,
Home Office men have grown up in Field Work,
Home Office Co-operation and Supervision, Stability and Faithfulness.

All of these things tend to assist agents along the road to success. Therefore, it is only natural that with this sort of co-operation both Mutual Trust and Its agents benefit.

INTEREST RATE TREND SHOWN BY STATISTICS

Unique Manual Digest Figures
Given to Show Change in Decade

EXPERIENCE HAS VARIED

Most Companies Have Increased Payments—Not All Show Increase in Earnings

The 1927 Unique Manual-Digest, recently issued, shows a list of 107 companies that are paying excess interest on proceeds left under settlement options. A number of these companies issue contracts on a non-participating basis, but the tendency has been for all companies, participating and non-participating, to pay an extra dividend besides the guaranteed rate of 3 or 3½ percent.

Conditions Changed

In the Digest issued in 1917, ten years ago, there are shown only 42 companies that were paying more than the guaranteed rate. No doubt, the development of salesmanship in life insurance along "program insurance" lines is responsible for many more companies paying from 4 to 5 percent instead of the guaranteed rate. In selling insurance on the basis of so much per month being paid to the beneficiary, it certainly would seem that an agent would be handicapped with an interest rate as low as 3½ percent.

Interest Rates Shown

The present rate of interest usually runs from 4½ to 5 percent, which on the average is higher than paid 10 years ago. The subjoined table shows the net rate of interest earned in the years 1916 and 1926 and also the rate of interest paid in 1917 as compared with the year 1927, these figures being taken from the 1917 and 1927 Unique Manual-Digests. The increases are notable among the companies who formerly had most of their assets invested in conservative but low yielding bonds and who within the past few years have fol-

The Verdict

Your success as an Underwriter depends upon the verdict brought in by the greatest jury in the world—the American Public. For more than seventy-six years the Massachusetts Mutual has been building up a nation-wide reputation. Its friends are everywhere and are ever ready to testify to the efficient service that it always renders. There is no better company to buy from and none better to represent in the Field.
